ENTERING INTO A SUPPLY ARRANGEMENT FOR RETURN AND EARN

Introduction

If you are a Supplier according to the Waste Avoidance and Resource Recovery Act 2001 (NSW) you have a legal obligation to participate in the NSW Government's container deposit scheme called Return and Earn. This includes entering into a Supply Arrangement contract with Return and Earn's Scheme Coordinator. Information about whether you may be a Supplier and critical dates during this establishment phase of the scheme are available in the other sections of this website and via the Useful links tab on this site.

Return and Earn's Scheme Coordinator has established a secure portal for Suppliers to review and enter into the required legal agreements by 1 October 2017. This document outlines the process involved, provides answers to frequently asked questions and includes the link to the portal for generating the legal agreements.

1 Frequently Asked Questions

1.1 What is a "Supply Arrangement"?

The Supply Arrangement is a contract between each entity that is a Supplier (as defined under the Waste Avoidance and Resource Recovery Act 2001 (NSW)) and the Scheme Coordinator. It also consists of two ancillary documents which each such entity is also required to enter into, the Supplier Side Deed and the Accession Deed Poll. The terms of each of these documents have been approved by the State.

1.2 Why do I need to enter into a Supply Arrangement?

We understand that it is the State's intention to enact law that under the Waste Avoidance and Resource Recovery Act 2001 (NSW), a Supplier must not supply or offer to supply a beverage in a container to any person unless (among other things) a supply arrangement is in force between the Supplier and the Scheme Coordinator in respect of those containers.

1.3 I have a question about a particular clause or provision.

Suppliers should seek their own independent legal advice in relation to the terms of the Supply Arrangement, Supplier Side Deed and/or Accession Deed Poll. Neither the Scheme Coordinator nor the State will be able to provide advice to you in relation to these documents.

1.4 Can I request changes to the terms of the Supply Arrangement, Supplier Side Deed or Accession Deed Poll?

No. The pro-forma copies of these documents have been approved by the State and are identical for all Suppliers. You will not be able to negotiate departures to the terms of these documents.

1.5 What if information submitted to the Scheme Coordinator changes in future (e.g. contact details for notices or Container Approvals)?

Please notify the Scheme Coordinator via the contact form on the homepage of this site (returnandearn.org.au) so that the Scheme Coordinator can update its records.

1.6 Is electronic execution binding on me, the Scheme Coordinator and the State?

Yes. Execution under the DocuSign platform is binding on all parties as though the documents were physically signed in person. The electronic copy you receive will, when printed, be considered an original copy of the relevant deed or deed poll.

1.7 Why must the proposed signatories provide certified copies of their proof of identity?

In order to verify the identity of the proposed signatories, each signatory will be required to upload a certified copy of their photo identification (e.g. Driver's Licence or passport).

Certification can be made by someone who has known you for at least a year, not be related to you by birth, marriage or de facto relationship, be easy to contact by telephone during normal working hours should we need to contact them, and be currently working in a profession or occupation listed below:
